RxEOB.com, a transformational health information technology company, is excited to announce another partnership in our efforts to help bring price transparency and patient choice to e-prescribing. Inside Rx® discounts are now available in the RxWallet® mobile application! With the RxWallet application users will have access to pricing options, including the Inside Rx discount program, right in the palm of their hand - turning them into proactive shoppers before they arrive at the pharmacy.

RxEOB believes everyone should have a simple and reliable way to access affordable prescriptions. Consumers deserve information that empowers them to make informed choices about the price and delivery of their medicine. To assist consumers, RxEOB has released the RxWallet e-prescription shopper application through the Apple and Google Play app stores.

RxWallet is an application that provides patients with pre-adjudication access to their electronic prescriptions, allowing them to:

- Easily compare drug therapy options
- Determine which pharmacy is best for them to use

- Identify and understand their payment options, including:
 - o The Inside Rx Discount Program
 - o Insurance
 - o Manufacturer discount programs

Like RxEOB, Inside Rx is a leader in helping patients and their families easily shop for the medications they need while getting discounts delivered more conveniently than ever. We at RxEOB are excited to be working with Inside Rx to help patients to get discounted prices and convenient access to their medications through our RxWallet application. Our partnership will promote better outcomes and a healthier lifestyle for patients.” said Robert Oscar, CEO and Founder of RxEOB.

“Inside Rx is continually growing and expanding our strategic partnerships to deliver our commitment to bring prescription savings within reach to even more patients nationwide.” said Beth Easton RPh, Managing Director of Inside Rx. “We are proud to partner with RxEOB and bring savings to patients through their RxWallet platform.”
